

Buddhist and South Asian Studies

Bachelor (Major/Hauptfach)
120 ECTS, 6 semesters

Further information and contact:
www.indologie.uni-muenchen.de/studium

Subjects

Cultural and intellectual history of India und Tibet, especially religions:

- Buddhism
- Hinduism
- Islam
- Jainism etc.

Intensive training in two or three relevant languages, such as:

- Classical Sanskrit
- Classical Tibetan
- Urdu/Hindi
- Tamil
- Telugu
- Kannada

Philological methods:

- Philological aids
- Textual criticism
- History of tradition and reception

Ethnological fieldwork:

- Observation
- Ethnographic interviewing

1st Semester	Source language (1)	Basic knowledge: Religions and literatures of India and Tibet
2nd Semester	Source language (2)	Basic skills: Methods of scholarly work
3rd Semester	Source language (3)	Buddhism/India Studies 1: Second language and/or Seminars, including fieldwork
4th Semester	Source language (4)	Buddhism/India Studies 2: Second language and/or Seminars, including fieldwork
5th Semester	Source language (5)	Second language or Field research project
6th Semester	Research	BA Thesis & Oral exam	Career preparation